It is time to stop!!!! It is time to stop and smell the roses, see the sites, hear the cookabura's in the morning, breathe the fresh air, get out, go, escape, run away, experience the sunsets, savour the good things this country has to offer. I am sure many of you are over the COVID-19 deluge of negative press. I must admit I have had enough. After a struggling 2019, the bush fires, droughts, water shortages, cyclones and floods, its time to get ourselves sorted and start enjoying what this amazing country has to offer.

What better isolation and distancing than heading off with your rig into the country or a remote coastal village. There, where there is room, less crowds, no panic buying, no locking yourself away from family, friends, social interactions and more. Yes we have to be careful, yes we need to keep things clean, keep our distance and respect each others space. What better place than country Australia!

I call it Isolation ~ Kui Style!

Travellers are already on the move!

So what do our travellers say?

In a short survey on Facebook we undertook this week, respondents where asked the following questions:

"Considering the current COVID -19 threat what best describes your thoughts?"

1. Chilled - not hit the road till its all over
2. Worried - so self isolate and stay out of everyone's way and only consider travelling when its all gone
3. Adventurous - get away from the cities now and head for the country to enjoy the open spaces and isolation that camping offers
4. Stick to your original travel plans and leave then.

Those that selected 1 and 2 (11%) have taken a precautionary approach, mainly due to other medical issues and concerns. 44% were sticking to their normal plans for travel and were heading off on the dates they had planned. Interestingly there was a whopping 42% of travellers getting out on the road sooner rather than later.

This trend has been seen at a number of our parks with occupancy higher than normal for this time of year. In fact we have had feedback of many rigs on the road already.

That is good news, especially with the drive nationally to get Australians to get out and support our local tourism and businesses in rural areas
